

Personal Development Plan: Achievements and Evidence of Progress

This document serves as a follow-up to my initial Personal Development Plan (PDP) created approximately one month ago. During this period, I have actively pursued the goals outlined in my original PDP with dedication and consistent effort. I am pleased to report that I have successfully achieved all the targets I set for myself, which include improvements in language proficiency, video editing skills, and active participation in meaningful social projects such as the MDT Project – Invisible Heroes.

The purpose of this document is to present concrete evidence of my accomplishments. Here, I will include certificates, project outcomes, screenshots, and other relevant proofs that demonstrate the progress I have made. This reflection not only highlights the practical steps I took to reach these milestones but also illustrates my growth in professional, academic, and personal competencies.

I believe this compilation will provide a comprehensive overview of my development and readiness for future academic and career endeavors.

Nº1 Studying Dutch

I posted 5 videos and 3 of them got more than 1,000 views + positive comments. What is more, now I became the official SMM & Content Creator of Think Wireless Instagram Page. Also, I applied for the position of a Community Coordinator at @nhlstendeninternational and on the 14th I will have an interview with them.

Nº3 MDT Project

- 1) We already fully finished doing our website, but we are still having two more weeks to work on the game. Here the link to our website:
